McKLords picks Michelle as new Marketing Manger

MICHELLE Edwards has been appointed by McKLords Ltd. as its new Marketing Manager.

The 32-year-old, who will be working closely with McKLords' directors to develop the business, has previously worked in Business and Project Management for the defence, chemical and education sectors.

Michelle, who has relocated from Lancashire to North Wales to take up her position, will work at McKLords' Kinmel Park Industrial Estate in Bodelwyddan, Denbighshire.

McKLords' Director, Ian McKerrow said: "Michelle is a very welcome addition to the team. She brings with her a vast array of industry experience.

"Michelle will be working closely with Sales and Production to maximize customer satisfaction in existing markets and will be closely involved with exploring new products and markets to support the continued growth of the company."

In her spare time, Michelle enjoys swimming, horse riding and water sports.

McKLords is one of Wales' biggest business success stories. The firm, which makes chemical products for the retail sector and for some of the country's top blue chip companies, has notched up more than 100% growth in turnover in the last financial year and has quadrupled its staff numbers in the last three years.
